

TV Program Causes Surprise Reuniting of Separated Pair

Technical sergeant and Mrs. Theodore L. Luster expected to be separated for a year when Sergeant Luster left for a remote assignment at King Salmon Air Force Station, Alaska.

The couple had an early reunion, though, as Mrs. Luster's "penalty" on a recent "Truth or Consequences" television show.

The occasion was the result of three weeks of secret planning by officials of NBC and the Alaskan Air Command. The Lusters' experience was one of many in which airmen on remote Alaskan sites have surprised their wives and families on the nationwide show.

SURVEY

At the request of Charlie Lyons, from Ralph Edwards Productions, Major Roy L. Haynes, AAC Director of Information, surveyed the command sites for airmen whose wives lived near Hollywood.

Sergeant Luster's name was submitted from King Salmon, where he is assigned to Detachment One of the 1931st Communications Squadron. "Truth or Consequences" gave the sergeant an all-expense trip to Hollywood for his appearance.

INVITED

Mrs. Luster, living in Southgate, was invited to the show by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Michal, of Torrance. She was "selected" from the studio audience to appear as a contestant.

After Mrs. Luster failed to answer the "gag" question asked by Master of Ceremonies Bob Barker, she was shown an act by a husband and wife dance team.

The wife, dressed completely in white, and the husband, in black including a hood over his face, performed against an unlit black background. The effect was that of the woman dancing alone, lifted into the air by an unseen force.

Mrs. Luster was told to dance with the partner in black.

At the end of the dance, she was told to take the hood off her partner's head, and she found she had been dancing with her husband, whom she thought was in Alaska.

Sermon Stresses Mankind's Need For Spirituality

Mankind's need for a spiritually meaningful set of values will be brought out at Christian Science services on Sunday. Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon on "Soul" is the Golden Text from Psalms (62:5,6), "My soul, wait thou only upon God; for my expectation is from him. He only is my rock and my salvation."

"Man is harmonious when governed by Soul," declares Mary Baker Eddy in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." Again she says, "Mortals must gravitate Godward, their affections and aims grow spiritual—they must near the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite—in order that sin and mortality may be put off." (pp. 273, 265.)

WITH A HOP, SKIP, AND A JUMPER—She's off to her first day at kindergarten. The classic Tiny Town styling is done in a blue-on-blue woven cotton brocade, accented by paler blue sateen in the sash and piping. A new side closing is set off by a pair of buttons. Most important is the top performance this dress will give, thanks to the Sanforized-Plus label, which means that the fabric has passed the most rigid standards of wash-and-wear performance. Ironing is cut to a bare minimum, and this little dress will fit as well after its umpteenth washing as it does after its first.
